Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-28, drawn to a fertilizer product, classified in class 71, subclass 6.
- II. Claims 29-39, drawn to a method of making a fertilizer product, classified in class 7, subclass 11.
- III. Claims 40-41, drawn to increasing yield of a plant, classified in class 800, subclass various.
- IV. Claim 41, drawn to a fertilizer prill/pellet, classified in class 71, subclass 64.03.
- V. Claim 42, drawn to method of increasing organisms, classified in class 435, subclass various.
- VI. Claim 43, drawn to producing a hydrocarbon, classified in class 252, subclass various.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case the process can be made by using bacteria in the contaminated manure to form the compost instead of adding bacillus spores.

Inventions I and III are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product can be used for converting manure into fertilizer that is applied to the soil to increase plant growth, and the process for using the product can be practiced with any compost.

Inventions I and V are related as product and process of use. The inventions can be shown to be distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) the process for using the product as claimed can be practiced with another materially different product or (2) the product as claimed can be used in a materially different process of using that product (MPEP § 806.05(h)). In the instant case the product can be used to increase the growth of a plant or to increase plant yield.

Each of the inventions IV and VI are unrelated, using steps that are distinct in producing a granulate or prill, while invention VI is to producing a hydrocarbon not accommodated by the fertilizer subclasses

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and the search required for one Group is not required for the others, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

A telephone call was made to Mr Wendt on or about 3/18/04, to request an oral election to the above restriction requirement, but did not result in an election being made.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
